

Angular Tech Lead

Delhi, Digital

JOB DESCRIPTION

Roles & Responsibilities

- Responsible for executing the individual agile development sprints for the respective applications
- Responsible for end-to-end ownership of the individual application development & maintenance tracks for both functional and non-functional requirements, including application enhancements, defect fixes and change requests across all application releases
- Work with Architects and Developers to develop the low-level technical design of application components
- Responsible for developing application code and unit tests, as per the approved designs
- Evaluate system performance & configurations prior to rollout and periodically thereafter, establishing baselines and identifying relative change on a release basis
- Support the product management and development teams in the development of technical specifications
- Provide data management support and training to the development and maintenance teams

EXPERTISE AND QUALIFICATIONS

Mandatory Skills

1. Experience in Angular 12, JQuery, HTML, CSS, Material, Bootstrap
2. Experience in creating npm libraries which can be used in multiple scenario.
3. Strong understanding of CSS3 design principles and techniques and demonstrable experience in building world-class, consumer web application interfaces.
4. Collaborate with the team and communicate effectively.
5. Good problem-solving skills.